GRAND VALLEY HIGHER IN LONDON PEARS ARE HERE

First Shipment of Season Unloaded by Local Dealer Friday.

MAY BE HAD AT RETAIL STORES TODAY

Importers Say That No Finer Pears Are to Be Had Anywhere.

A cariead of Grand valley pears, than which no finer are grown anywhere, reached the Salt Lake market yesterday and will today be of-fered to the consumers by the retail dealers. The pears are of fine size, firm yet julcy, and are what shippers call "California packed." This means that every pear is free from very pear is separately wrapped. The whole every pear is separately wrapped. The wholesale price of this fruit was named yesterday at $2 a box, which will make the retail price about 10 cents a pound. Dealers are looking for a big demand this morning, as these are really the first fine pears that have come in any quantity.

On Monday morning W. M. Rash & Co. of this city will receive the first carload of grapes that has ever come over the San Pedro trial to the local market. The grapes are from Freuno, but the had over the Santa Pe to Low-Amgeles, then to Sant Lake by the San Pedro is shorter than by the Southern Pacific It is likely that much of the fruit raised in the literior of Callifornia, will hereafter come by the now route.

Stock Market Letters.

James A. Pollock & Co., stock and grain brokers, 6. West Second South street, make public the following letters on the stock market.

Dick Bros., New York, say: "The market has been very dull but firm today, gaining strength and advancing in the last hour on renewed builish activity by professionals. There was no news, but call money ruled easier and there was general expectation of a good bank statement tomorrow. The principal influence, however, was the absence of selling pressures and the relative scarcity of stocks, which allowed figures to go up on light transactions. The buying was very largely professional. The best prices of the day were made at the closing, the market showing life and strength in the last fiften minutes."

Hutton, New York, says: "The market was without feature today, though notable strength was seen during the entiresession. There was a distinct lack of pressure to sell, even on the advance, which indicates quite forcibly to us that important interests took what speculative stocks were thrown on the market in the last few days, and these securities will not come on the market again unless unscrupulous operators bring a built campaign in specialties at this particular period, in which event bankers will quickly cause a good slump in prices."

The market while somewhat irregular displayed a strong undertone, and in the afternoon, when the announcemen, was made that the banks had gained as a result of cash movement for the week and the indications pointing to a good bank statement tomorrow, sufficient buying came into the market to carry prices up about a point from the early low level and to give the market a fairly strong appearance. Operations were, however, mainly professional. For the present we continue to favor a scalping position and would take the buying side after sharp declines.

Marshall Spader & Co., New York, say: "The prospects of a fairly good bank by the new route. Beliefferr applies from California, which is famous for applies of that variety, are among the new offerings. They sell at 10 cents a round and are eitre to prove among the favor-lie applies of the winter, this year as formerly. Utah onices are being shipped to the city in large quantities and are being stored for the winter. Some very choice white ones were unleaded yesterday, and sold at $1.50 s hundredweight. The rotall price of these is 3 cents a pound.

take the buying side after sharp declines conmarshall Spader & Co., New York, say:
The prospects of a fairly good bank statement tomorrow seem assured as a result of known movements at this writing, and this development will probably receive full weight as a market influence tomorrow, though there is no reason to expect or notive wider market activity on this account alone."

Logan & Bryan, New York, say:
Throughout most of the session prices were well maintained, but the volume of tusiness was small until the last hour. The advance seemed to have stimulated the buying demand, with the close active and buoyant. The trade was well distributed Money, while firm, was not considered a factor. While we look for a trading market, it seems to have an upward tendency at the moment. The principal activity and interest continues to be centered in the low-priced stocks. Republic activity and interest continues to be cen-tered in the low-priced stocks. Republic Steel common has been extremely active, and the market on this stock acts as though it would do much better." sters, 20c a pound; shad, 15c per pound; skate 5c per pound; shrimps, 20c a quart.

Apricots remain strong on the coast, with the local spot market dull and unchanged. Choice are quoted at 85-60c; extra choice, 94-609c; fancy, 190/III/2c.

Prinches remain nominal.

Ruisins are firmer in tone, owing to the partial withdrawal of offerings by outside interests who, according to reports, have been willing to sell a shade under the figures of the combination. The spot situation is without material change. Loose muscatals are quoted at 54-607-2c; seeded raisins, 54-605-6c; London layers, $11591-29.

Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, Oct 13.—The dry goods market was without change today, as far as prices were concerned. Although certain buyers were conservative regarding the future, others, realizing their inability to secure goods for near-by delivery, provided for the future with more freedem. Jubbling trade was favored with cooler weather.

Receipts today in the Northwest were of large proportions.

In the Southwest arrivals were larger than for the corresponding day a year ago. In addition, cash markets at all the principal grain centers of the United States showed a slightly casier tone and there was little in the export news to encourage builts.

Weakness prevailed during the remainder of the session. Closing prices were at 35° to 5° c.

The corn market was weak from start to finish. Values could not withstand the almost universal conviction that a record-breaking crop was now possibly safe from all possible injury by frost. The market closed weak. December closed at 45% a loss of ½c.

through the medium of re-orders. Export trade in all kinds of grain and flour show expansion. Prices of nearly all commedities are strong or tend upward, reflecting ir sistent demand. Demand for money is still growing, and stock market movements are being subordinated to requirements to move crops and fluance commercial operations along all lines. Some Western centars still report their banks or wing down Eastern balances to meet nearer requirements.

The only flaw in the situation at present—one, by the way, flowing from intense activity in all lines of industry—is the growing inability of the railroads to bandle the freight traffic offering. This compilaint is well night universal.

die the freight traffic offering. This complaint is well nigh universal.

Railway gross earnings in September were very heavy, increasing 6 per cent over the aame mouth in 1904, while for the nine mouths of the calendar year the gain over the corresponding period last year reaches 6.4 per cent. Many of the individual roads show remarkable increases. Business failures for the week ending October 12 number 181, against 189 last week, 186 in the like week of 1894, 293 in 1902, 203 in 1902 and 38 in 1901.

In Canada failures for the week number 25, as against 25 last week and 18 in this week a year ago.

Wheat (including flour) exports for the week ending October 12 are 2,774,332 bushels, against 1,072,512 last week, 1,257,175 this week last year, 2,855,510 in 1903 and 5,246,888 in 1902.

Dun on Trade Conditions.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.-Dun's weekly review of trade tomorrow will say Recent mild weather might have been expected to retard business, but freight blockades and several similar conditions blockades and several similar conditions testify to the contrary and the last half of the week brought a seasonable fall in temperature. Higher rates for money tend to prevent excess in Wall street, yet there is no difficulty in securing funds for mercantile undertakings. At some cities fall trade has become more quiet, first necessities being covered, but supplementary orders are confidently awaited. The first interest in holiday trade is noted, and this element promises to supply unprecedented business this year. Manufacturers are so fully occupied that contracts for early delivery cannot be considered in most cases and the amount of business that will be carried over into 1906 will certainly sellpse all records. These sanguine prospects are confidently announced in several of the leading industries, latest news from the iron furnaces and steel mills being notably gratifying. Creps were not seriously injured by the frost, and such a small percentage of the year's yield still remains exposed to danger that agricultural results may be summed up as most favorable.
